THE INTERNATIONAL MANAGEMENT/CEMS STUDY PROGRAM AT A GLANCE

The Master in International Management/CEMS is an exclusive international joint degree program offered by WU Vienna University of Economics and Business in cooperation with the CEMS Alliance. The program is specially designed to meet the needs and trends of the global marketplace in an international and multicultural setting, and offers a stimulating learning environment through the wide variety of professional, academic, and research experience brought to the classroom. It gives you the academic and practical knowledge you need for a successful international career.

CONTENT AND STRUCTURE

Students of this program can expect to find various core components like excellence in management education, a term abroad at an elite partner school, hands-on business experience during an international internship, and a capstone business project. For half of the class, the Master in International Management/CEMS starts with an intensive one-week block seminar. During the first semester, a number of foundations (compulsory core courses) will provide all students with basic skills in international management. In addition to these courses, students will choose from a wide range of electives. In the second semester, the focus lies on strengthening students' theoretical knowledge and on gaining international experience. Half of the students will spend this semester at one of the CEMS partner universities abroad. A business project for an internationally-operating company is conducted, and students gain working experience abroad in an internship.

In the third semester, the other half of the students will spend a semester abroad and start the year with a block seminar. Students will deepen their fundamental understanding of the material by choosing electives at WU or at one of the CEMS partner universities. In the fourth semester, students will concentrate on and complete their master's thesis, focusing on international management. Of course the students' thesis advisors are available for personal consultation throughout the writing process. Further electives can also be chosen.

CAREER PROSPECTS

As a result of the program's global outlook, graduates of the Master in International Management/CEMS are confident intercultural communicators, and attract the attention of potential international employers. The program's broad and general approach to management uniquely qualifies its graduates for a wide variety of positions, for instance in consulting, corporate strategy, marketing, finance or human resources, and in particular for positions requiring an integrated, holistic knowledge of various domains. Graduates are typically employed by multinational corporations, foreign subsidiaries, international consulting agencies or non-profit organizations.

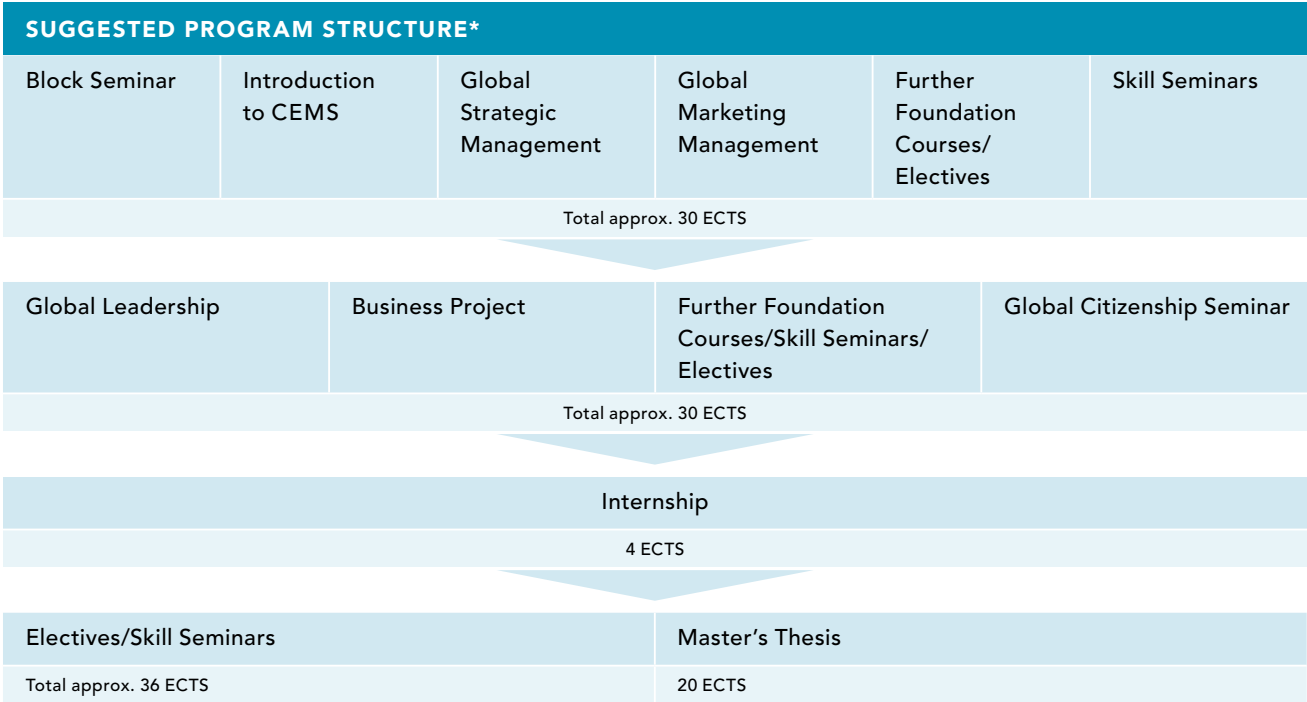

Corporate Partners

Corporate Partners participate directly in developing and shaping the program. Their involvement is wide-ranging, including everything from corporate presentations, case studies or international business projects to holding corporate skills seminars or giving students the opportunity to write a master's thesis or to do internships abroad.

“CEMS is a very international program, which is embedded in a unique global network of business schools and corporate partners, and which is ranked among the best management programs in the world.”

Phillip C. Nell

Academic Director, International Management/CEMS
